The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington-Handsome Averell Harriman, new secretary of commerce, got somewhat in wrong with his chief last week, and quite a bit in wrong with Mrs. Truman, when he failed to attend an official White House recep-

The President and Mrs. Truman were giving a gala reception for the press, and were reverting to the ornate peacetime formality which no one has seen much of around the White House since Pearl Harbor. This meant that at an oppointed hour, the entire cabinet lines up behind the chief executive and the first lady and together they march down the grand stairway while the band plays "Hail to the

This grand march was scheduled for last week's reception. Only trouble was that the cabinet was so seriously depleted that not many were around to march. Secretary of the Treasury Snyder was in Mexico, Secretary of State Byrnes was in New York at the United Nations meeting, Postmaster General Hannegan was in Florida resting-all unavoidably away. But Secretary of Commerce Harriman and his lovely wife, who had been in Washington all that day, were nowhere to be found.

There was no excuse for them. Furthermore, Secretary Harriman is the newest member of the cabinet; also one of the best looking and most experienced in high society. One might forgive Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach, a former laundry man from the so-called "wilds" of Washington State, for shunning stiff bosoms and White House receptions. Or one might expect Attorney General Tom Clark of Dallas, who is addicted to cowboy belts and broad-brimmed hats, to be shy about White House gold braid and protocol.

However, Averell Harriman, who almost leaped from a bassinette to the back of a polo pony, and whose late railroad czar father weened him on ritzy Long Island society, was expected to feel right at home in the White House and help make others feel at home too.

HOTEL BLAZE CAUSES BARED

Old Buildings And Use Of Combustibles Are Blamed

Washington-Old buildings and and acoustical materials in modernizing hotels are to blame for the wave of hotel fires which added more than 100 lives to their toll in Saturday's blaze at the Winecoff Hotel in Atlanta.

That is the opinion of Dr. S. H. Ingberg, physicist and chief of fire resistance investigations at the Bureau of Standards

Ingberg believes that the use of combined with the failure to enclose stair and elevator shafts, is to blame for the death toll of fires | five cents, and dime hamburgers persons in three hotels within seven months.

where 69 persons lost their lives why Arnauds prices have risen with travel in the days before in a fire in June, Dr. Ingberg said neither of the hotels had the enclosed stair and elevator shafts required by modern building cod-

The hotels were built before the codes included this requirement, and the codes have not been made retroactive. One benefit Dr. Ingberg foresees from the shocking hotel fires recently is making building codes apply to hotel constructed before requirements are made effective.

Under the codes, fireproof doors and partitions prevent the rapid spread of fire through many stories of a building in a few minutes by flames racing through elevator shafts or stairways.

In the LaSalle fire, combustible finishes were found to have aided the fire. Dr. Ingberg warns that combustible finishes or acoustica materials are a major fire hazard in hotels. Wood and other non-fire resistant materials are being used modernizing and acoustical installations in hotels either because they are cheaper or more readily

Dr. Ingberg termed the hotel fire deaths "an aftermath of the tendency to newer, combustible finishes of wood or synthetics. Highly fire retardant materials are and acoustical units, he pointed

A film of ray paint is much more combustible than after it has been on a month because the volatile substances used to thin paint are a fire hazard for only a short time. But paint can be dangerous in case of fire for 24 hours after applied.

"Any change of construction brings fire hazards," Dr. Ingberg said, adding that many hotels are underoing postwar improvement

He said it was doubtful if the National Bureau of Standards the Winecoff Hotel fire, though the Bureau made one of the La-Salle fire.
